

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

Exploring Creativity and Prayer
17 to 21 September 2018

Led by Anna Smith and Revd Judy Dinnen

“Exploring Creativity’ will offer an opportunity to discover ways in which the journey of faith as a Christian may be enhanced by the gifts of creativity. No previous experience or ability is needed and there will be inspiration and guidance from both leaders. This is a time to experiment!

Ecclesiastes 3 is a powerful reflection on the passage of time. We want to use this as the basis for our exploration of creativity and prayer.

There will be no pressure or expectation to produce written or visual masterpieces – your individual response to God, made in a way that reflects you, is what counts! Come and be surprised, take time aside to reflect, to grow, to explore, and to delight in God’s presence. We hope you will leave with a better understanding of yourself, God and others.

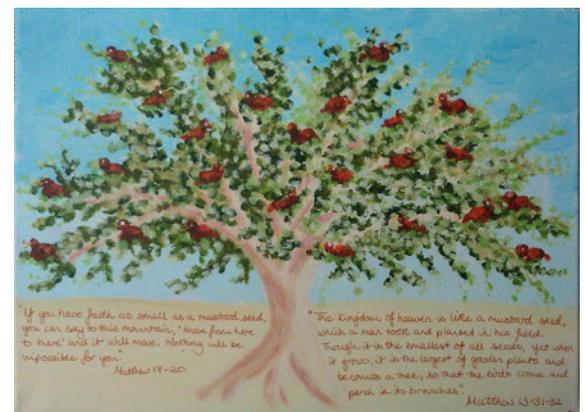

As with all CARM Retreats there will be the opportunity to worship together, time for creative work, periods of silence from Night Prayer till about 10.00am the next day and of course lots of lovely food.

Revd Judy Dinnen is a parish priest in Herefordshire. Judy also writes poetry, including material for Wild Goose Publications, and offers creative writing workshops to clergy and other groups. She encourages playing with words to explore inner journeys, hopes and theological understanding.

Anna Smith studied art, theology and religious studies. While Anna loves textiles she likes to experiment with other media. She used to professionally design Sunday School materials before getting involved with international Christian charities. Since moving to North Wales Anna plans to spend more time exploring the interplay between faith and art.

Arrive 4pm Monday, leave after breakfast on Friday.

Cost £290

Llangasty Retreat House, Llangasty, Brecon, Powys, LD3 7PX

Tel: 01874 658250

www.llangasty.com

email: enquiries@llangasty.com

Charity Number 1060743

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

Exploring Creativity and Prayer
17 to 21 September 2018

Led by Anna Smith and Revd Judy Dinnen

“Exploring Creativity’ will offer an opportunity to discover ways in which the journey of faith as a Christian may be enhanced by the gifts of creativity. No previous experience or ability is needed and there will be inspiration and guidance from both leaders. This is a time to experiment!

Ecclesiastes 3 is a powerful reflection on the passage of time. We want to use this as the basis for our exploration of creativity and prayer.

There will be no pressure or expectation to produce written or visual masterpieces – your individual response to God, made in a way that reflects you, is what counts! Come and be surprised, take time aside to reflect, to grow, to explore, and to delight in God’s presence. We hope you will leave with a better understanding of yourself, God and others.

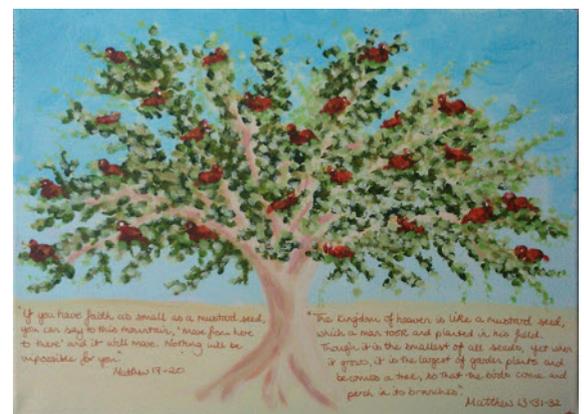

As with all CARM Retreats there will be the opportunity to worship together, time for creative work, periods of silence from Night Prayer till about 10.00am the next day and of course lots of lovely food.

Rev Judy Dinnen is a parish priest in Herefordshire. Judy also writes poetry, including material for Wild Goose Publications, and offers creative writing workshops to clergy and other groups. She encourages playing with words to explore inner journeys, hopes and theological understanding.

Anna Smith studied art, theology and religious studies. While Anna loves textiles she likes to experiment with other media. She used to professionally design Sunday School materials before getting involved with international Christian charities. Since moving to North Wales Anna plans to spend more time exploring the interplay between faith and art.

Arrive 4pm Monday, leave after breakfast on Friday.

Cost £290

Llangasty Retreat House, Llangasty, Brecon, Powys, LD3 7PX

Tel: 01874 658250

www.llangasty.com

email: enquiries@llangasty.com

Charity Number 1060743